Source precedence

Applicable law and current regulatory directions prevail. Current approved product schedules, signed customer agreements, formal sanction letters, insurer plan documents, and approved HR terms govern their respective subjects. This general document summarizes rather than overrides them.

RAG instruction

Index content with document ID, section title, version, effective date, category, and access level. Treat all contacts and product figures in this synthetic corpus as fictional test values.

Contents and Retrieval Map

The following pages are organized as focused sections so retrieval can identify the most relevant passage. The section title should be stored as metadata for each extracted chunk.

When answering a question, retrieve the narrowest relevant section and check its context. Do not combine unrelated policy details merely because they occur in the same PDF.

Purpose and scope

Sets fictional attendance, leave request, and flexible-work procedures for eligible Vedranta Bank employees. Applicable law and employment terms prevail.

Operational guidance

For this topic, staff or the chatbot should first identify the customer's or employee's actual question, confirm the relevant product or policy scope, and consult the current approved source. The document is a general guide and should not be used to infer missing eligibility, rates, dates, approvals, or account-specific facts.

Recommended handling steps

1. Identify the request type and the information needed to answer it.
2. Check the current policy version, effective date, and relevant customer or employee category.
3. Explain the process in plain language and distinguish general guidance from a decision on an individual case.
4. If verification or an authorized system is required, direct the user to that approved route.
5. Record or cite the relevant source and escalate ambiguity rather than inventing an answer.

Examples and exception handling

Example: a user asks about purpose and scope. The assistant provides the relevant general rule, explains any condition or exception in the source, and avoids asserting a personalized outcome without authorized evidence. If the source is silent or conflicting, the assistant states that the information requires confirmation and routes the query to the responsible team.

RAG retrieval anchors

Search terms: Purpose and scope; Vedranta Bank; VDB-HR-002; Employee Benefits; process; eligibility; required documents; approval; exception; escalation; effective date.

Consistency and control note

Use the bank-wide master profile for institutional facts. For rates, fees, leave entitlements, insurance limits, contact placeholders, and service hours, use the centrally agreed figures and the relevant specialized document. A newer approved source or applicable law takes precedence over a general explanatory section.

Employment categories

Eligibility depends on permanent, fixed-term, trainee, or contract status and local requirements. The policy must not be applied to a group without checking its terms.

Operational guidance

For this topic, staff or the chatbot should first identify the customer's or employee's actual question, confirm the relevant product or policy scope, and consult the current approved source. The document is a general guide and should not be used to infer missing eligibility, rates, dates, approvals, or account-specific facts.

Remote work eligibility

Remote work depends on role suitability, information security, customer-service needs, and written approval. It is not an automatic entitlement for every role.

Operational guidance

For this topic, staff or the chatbot should first identify the customer's or employee's actual question, confirm the relevant product or policy scope, and consult the current approved source. The document is a general guide and should not be used to infer missing eligibility, rates, dates, approvals, or account-specific facts.

Recommended handling steps

1. Identify the request type and the information needed to answer it.
2. Check the current policy version, effective date, and relevant customer or employee category.
3. Explain the process in plain language and distinguish general guidance from a decision on an individual case.
4. If verification or an authorized system is required, direct the user to that approved route.
5. Record or cite the relevant source and escalate ambiguity rather than inventing an answer.

Examples and exception handling

Example: a user asks about remote work eligibility. The assistant provides the relevant general rule, explains any condition or exception in the source, and avoids asserting a personalized outcome without authorized evidence. If the source is silent or conflicting, the assistant states that the information requires confirmation and routes the query to the responsible team.

Conflicting leave requests

Managers apply consistent business criteria and avoid discriminatory decisions. Escalate unresolved fairness concerns to HR.

Operational guidance

For this topic, staff or the chatbot should first identify the customer's or employee's actual question, confirm the relevant product or policy scope, and consult the current approved source. The document is a general guide and should not be used to infer missing eligibility, rates, dates, approvals, or account-specific facts.

Recommended handling steps

1. Identify the request type and the information needed to answer it.
2. Check the current policy version, effective date, and relevant customer or employee category.
3. Explain the process in plain language and distinguish general guidance from a decision on an individual case.
4. If verification or an authorized system is required, direct the user to that approved route.
5. Record or cite the relevant source and escalate ambiguity rather than inventing an answer.

Examples and exception handling

Example: a user asks about conflicting leave requests. The assistant provides the relevant general rule, explains any condition or exception in the source, and avoids asserting a personalized outcome without authorized evidence. If the source is silent or conflicting, the assistant states that the information requires confirmation and routes the query to the responsible team.
